Happenings in and Around Blairmore

J. Hamar returned from Nelson, B.C., on Tuesday evening last.

The Male Welsh Choir at the opera house on Tuesday evening.

A. A. Sparks returned from Edmonton and other points north on Friday last.

Mr. Rainbow, representing the Consolidated Stationery Co., was down from Calgary on Tuesday.

Miss Louise Sunrinn, returned from Calgary on Saturday evening after spending a couple of weeks in the metropolis.

Subject for the morning service in the Baptist Church will be "The Supreme Work" and in the evening "Wages and Profit."

Mrs. M. S. Bourgeois, who was recently taken to the Miner's hospital, at Coleman, was transferred to Lethbridge on Saturday.

Some local "guy" sent out of town and had social invitations printed on the back of a sort of a meal ticket. It's a cheap job and deserves a cheap response.

The Castle Square Entertainers will appear at the opera house here on Thursday evening next. These entertainers are well recommended by the pulpit, the public and the press.

Blairmore Lodge No. 68, L.O.O.F., held its semi-annual installation in their lodge room, Victoria street, on Tuesday evening last. The names of the elective officers appeared in three columns several weeks ago.

All evangelical churches are requested to hold one hour of prayer on Sunday afternoon next. At the Institutional Church in Coleman it will be held between 3:45 and 4:45 p.m. At the Central Baptist Church Blairmore at the same hour.

Election for school trustees for the town of Blairmore, was held in the council chamber on Monday evening when the following were elected by acclamation: Rev. J. F. Hunter and A. A. Sparks, for a term of two years each, and Samuel Ennis for one year.

A social will be held by the Young People's Guild on Monday evening next. Besides partaking of delectable edibles, a splendid programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., will be disposed of.

A fifteen round boxing contest between "Dick" Marshall and "Curly" Smith, will be held in the opera house on Monday night next. The big bout will commence shortly after ten o'clock. This promises to be a good, clean and interesting affair.

Rev. W. T. Young, of Frank, has commenced a class in English for the Italians of this town and has rented the Union hall for that purpose. The lessons will be given free and all Italians who desire to speak good English are cordially invited to attend.

The officers elected by the Young People's Guild for the current term are: J. G. Smith, president; J. D. S. Barrett, vice-president; Mrs. H. G. Bigelow, secretary-treasurer. Those on the executive committee are: Mrs. H. G. Bigelow, Miss M. R. O'Brien, Miss E. M. Fulton, Miss A. R. Darrick, J. G. Smith, J. D. S. Barrett, D. Kinzie, B. Cooper, A. Foulton and W. A. Chester.

What came near being a triple tragedy occurred on Monday evening last as the eastbound train was leaving the station. The Frank-Blairmore hockey game was played here the same night, and some of the Frank people hurried to the station to catch the train to convey them home but they were late in arriving at the platform and three young men who attempted to board the already fast going "passenger" were dragged along over the end of the spacious platform into the snow and water. ## Editorial Notes

It is often said that the towns of The Pass have a large floating population. This will be strikingly evident if the warm weather continues and the water keeps accumulating.

The people of New Westminster have just re-elected Mr. J. A. Lee as their mayor. Lee's supporters are convinced that it is safe to keep on the leeward side of the municipal ship.

If the people of Lethbridge and other western cities want to hear some thrilling narratives, why don't they extend an invitation to Dr. W. J. Currie, who has just returned to Canada after spending 25 years among African tribes, instead of allowing Dr. Grenfell to tell them how to cure for reindeer and to say "how awfully wicked" the Eskimos are?

The men who are advertising in this journal are live business men. Dead men are only fit to inhabit cemeteries and not to attempt to run a business without advertising.

If they are decently dead, dead all over, we tenderly lay them away in the sleep of the south. But if they are dead to all the enterprise out of the narrow plane of their own interests and yet persist in walking around, moving their dry bones, calloused hearts and consciences where real business is wont to throb and pulse with vigor, they are only like the donee bees, in the way until they are stung to death and dragged outside the hive of legitimate industry. Twenty real live men are worth more to the public generally than a round full thousand of useless material that lie around like rubbish in a rising stream that is rushing and foaming to turn mills and factories. Yes, live men bless, but dead men curse a town.

Dr. Grenfell Causes Erroneous Conceptions
The following which is taken from the Western Star, Bay of Islands, Nfld., contains some timely information about Dr. Grenfell and his work on the Labrador coast. The following clipping also supports our recent remarks regarding the man who is accumulating great riches in the land of which he has the audacity to say in stringent circumstances.
"One would imagine, reading the exchange referred to, that conditions were so bad in this country people are forced to leave it, when the very opposite is the case. Today on the west coast of Newfoundland the Dominion Iron and Steel Company are seeking for men and are unable to obtain all they require; the same is also true of other industries and so acute is the scarcity of laborers, becoming many are of opinion that in the escaped any serious injuries more than that they had to "beat it" over the railway ties to the burg at the east end of town.

very near future those carrying on industries will be compelled to look elsewhere.

"The fisher folk on the Labrador are a hardy vigorous race, of the type and class that new countries are seeking for, and it is worth an effort on our part to retain the earning power of those who live in the country."

"There is no necessity today, for any person to immigrate, that day is passed as far as we are concerned."

"If Dr. Grenfell wants to befriend the unemployed why does he not go to his own country and apply his energy and ability in that direction. There he will find starving millions, vice and crime, without any parallel in any other civilized country."

"There is neither starvation nor vice nor crime here. If he wants to play the role of philanthropist and benefactor his own country is the field for him, there his services are most needed. Leave our people alone, Doctor, we want them to work out the destiny of our island home; their brain and muscle can be more profitably employed, to their own and their country's benefit here."

Fancy Dress Carnival Next Wednesday

On Wednesday evening next a fancy dress carnival will be held on the Blairmore skating rink. Weather and other conditions permitting. A fine list of prizes is being arranged, and the following are among the many items on the programme for which prizes will be awarded: Best dressed lady, best dressed gent, best dressed boy, best dressed girl, best comic costume; also medals for half-mile backward race, obstacle race, etc. It is expected that a brass band will be in attendance. Watch for further details to be announced on bills about Saturday. Remember the carnival date—January 24th.

Welsh Choir

All nations that have made any advance in culture have evolved in the course of their evolution a music that is purely national. A connoisseur would have no difficulty in telling from a programme German, English, French or Italian music. Each has its characteristic excellences. It is certain, too, that just as easily could be detected selections in Welsh. In one particular Welsh music excels that of all other nations, that is in the wonderful beauty of its part songs. The Welsh part songs stand alone in interpretation and rendition of these most difficult and wonderful compositions the Welsh people have been from time immemorial "facile princeps." For those who have never heard this class of music a treat is certainly in store in the coming visit of the Moolwyn Male Choir. This splendid aggregation is justly considered one of the most perfectly trained choirs in existence. It has a record of having won $15,000 in prize in competitions with other choirs. It was the favorite choir of the late King Edward VII. The choir will give a splendid programme in Blairmore opera house on Tuesday evening next.

Alberta Stock Shippers

From reports which have come to hand, it appears that practically all the five stock shippers of Canada were represented at the meeting held in Toronto to discuss the New Proposed Live Stock Shipping Contract, except the one most directly concerned in it, namely the shippers themselves.

There were delegates representing Stock Breeders' Association, Fair's Associations, Board of Trade, Manufacturers' Associations and Government Officials, but from Alberta alone was there a delegate who carried credentials from a body of stock shippers and even here the organization is as yet only temporary.

The situation is anomalous and difficult to explain. Alberta Shippers, like most Alberta men, are live wires and they get together and expressed their views just as soon as they were advised of what was doing, but their work is not yet done. It is evident that the entire subject of shipping live stock is to be investigated. A set of regulations governing live stock shipments has been submitted to the Board of Railway Commissioners by the Live Stock Commissioners at Ottawa for approval. The Railway Companies reply that these are not needed, that the service they are now giving the shippers is good enough and in their own interest they have submitted for approval this new Live Stock Shipping Contract, in which they endeavor to get the shippers to release them from responsibility for almost every conceivable kind of accident, no matter who may have been the cause of it.

Another important feature of this Contract is the one making it the duty of the shipper to explain to the man in charge of his stock, that in case the attendant is injured, he cannot collect from the company, no matter how the injury occurred and if the shipper fails to do this and fails to get the attendant to sign a contract releasing the company from all responsibility for his safety, then the shipper is himself liable for any claims for damages that may arise should the attendant be killed or injured while going through with the stock or returning.

Shippers of live stock are the people most directly interested in these questions and the nature of the decision that will be rendered on them will depend very much on the manner in which the shippers represent their side of the controversy.

All that has been done to improve shipping conditions thus far has been done by the stock breeders and stock growers' associations and government officials. It is now that the shippers speak for themselves. Had they done so long ago much more could doubtless have been accomplished.

The most beautiful picture, entitled "Home Again," has brought such an enormous amount of new subscriptions to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, that the publishers are finding it impossible to keep up with the filling of orders, but in the column of that paper this week, we notice a positive guarantee from the Publishers that every subscriber to that great weekly for 1912 will receive a copy of the picture "Home Again." Their guarantee is sufficient and subscribers need not feel anxious although the picture may be delayed for a few weeks. Those who have not yet subscribed to The Family Herald and Weekly Star should do so at once and make sure of having a copy of the picture "Home Again." We learn that the Publishers are contemplating something for next season that will make this picture even more valuable than at present. The Department of Neglected Children are anxious to secure for the following children:

A little girl aged six years has been badly neglected by her parents and removed on Con't's Order. The child is a particularly attractive little girl with fair hair and brown eyes. A little boy aged one year, bright looking, normal child. A little boy aged four years, brother of the above child. Also home for a little girl aged nine years; a little boy aged ten years; good looking, husky boy who will make a good man. This boy is caddy complexioned, dark haired. Infant girl aged three months. Infant boy aged six weeks, normal attractive child.

The above children are all Protestant and require Protestant homes. Homes, however, are required for the following Catholic children: Little girl aged eight years; attractive child. Little boy aged five years; nice looking child with fair hair. Little boy aged six years; strong, husky boy who should have a good future ahead of him. Little girl aged nine years; strong, husky girl with plenty of play spirit.

Application for these children should be sent to the Superintendent of Neglected Children at Edmonton. In view of the fact that there are as a rule no applications from children this is a good opportunity to secure one of these children.

Lake City

Is the name of the Western Terminal Point of the proposed Crow's Nest Pass Electric Railway and is already tapped by the Pass line of the C. P. R., while the G. N. R. has already approached to within a few score of miles and must eventually pass through this admirably located town.

Lake City

Is located by the shore of Crow's Nest Lake, only a few miles east of the provincial boundary between Alberta and British Columbia, and just north of the international line. In reality, it is at the top of Canada where the majestic Rockies tower in serene magnificence over great chasms and numerous floods, reflecting their presence on the waters of this beautiful lake. Here also are afforded the very best tasks for the daring mountain climber and for hunsman who desires to outlive the quiet ways of the Rocky Mountain goat, sheep, deer or elk, which are the monarchy thereon. In close proximity are numerous timber, mineral and fuel resources, development of which is now in its initial stages. These resources include gold quartz, coal, iron and pulp wood.

Crow's Nest Lake has long been looked upon with promise as an admirable location for health and tourist resorts, and but now this promise is being realized. Plans for hotels, etc. are being arranged, as well as boat houses, and the most modern pleasure yachts will soon glide over the surface of this beautiful lake.

But a few weeks ago lots were placed on the market, and the agents have had their hands full attending to purchasers. Prices run from $150 up. For further particulars apply to the agents:

A Romantic Story

But a Matter of Fact Man Spoiled It

By WILLARD COOK

A number of men were foundered around a trading post in upper Canada. There was Jacques Trudeau, Julien Morier and others, including Silas Hutchins, a Connecticut Yankee, who had come up to trade miscellaneous articles for furs. Jacques Trudeau had the name of being a great story teller. Often of an evening in winter, when the trading of the day was ended, those sitting over the fire would stop, gather about the stove, get out their pipes and call on him for a story. His yarns, if they had been developed into novels, would have made "best sellers" today, for they were full of adventure, surprises and escapades. But these were French people with that rhapsody which the French people love so well.

His pipe smoking, rambling Jacques, when called upon, would begin, "There was a certain young couple, and

[illegible]

"See here, Trudeau," interrupted Hutchins, "waint there some danger of them two fallin' in love and puttin' up a joint?"

The story teller and the listeners sitting around the store all looked up reproachfully at the Yankee. They knew that there was intended to be a love affair between the two, but he was so unwilling to have it developed in good store form. Trudeau did not delay a reply, and when they all fell back on their heels he said, "No, but he will be continued his story without changing in the slightest the lines he had laid down for its construction:

"Meister Brewerton he wab his his own story. So he wab his own gauge Ebboudard Hubbard to teach these Ebboudard he ter' handsome man too. He haf er lak the interc'—" the ship which Billy Morgan was a passenger across the Atlantic. Booth Tarkington, the Indiana novelist, got off a pretty good one about a shark which a captain fed and petted and which finally saved the captain's life. But that was a long time ago from him when he was shipwrecked.

It was a good story until Billy Morgan smiled his way into the little bunch and began to talk about the Hoversack herd of dehorned cattails up at the Lawrence dam. It is an old story in Kansas, of course, but it was a long way from home, and Billy had to go into details to make the bunch believe it. And so this is what he told:

"Some years ago Mr. Ewersack, who owns the dam that furnishes power for the mill and other factories, conceived the idea that the big Kaw river catfish going through the mill race and on to the water wheel added to the power generated. Then he read that fish are very sensitive to music and he hired a man with an accordion to stand over the mill race and play. The catfish came from up and down stream to hear the music and almost inevitably drifted through the race on to the wheel and increased the power.

"The fisher's horns used to get entangled in the wheel and injure the fish, heard a man and a persistent, though not a lot of the fish caught and deboned, and in a year or two he had a large herd of hornless catfish. These fish, not only turn out to be the mink, but they have learned to enjoy the wheel, so that every Sunday or on other large families of catfish—and they have large families—come to Bowersock's lake to shoot the chutes, something like people go out to ride on the roller coaster.

"Whenever the water in the river gets low Mr. Bowersock has the band play, and the catfish gather and go round and round over the wheel, furnishing power for the Bowersock mill when every other wheel on the river has a lack of water. Kansas City Journal.

LOCATING A MOUNTAIN.

It Took Dr. Merzbacher Two Years to Find the Base of Khantsengri.
For two years a curious search

This part of the world was long developed in obscurity, and until Dr. Merzbacher's survey no good maps of it existed. The mountains are well known picturesquely and cover ground for miles at a time as the Alps.

Many of the peaks measure over 20,000 feet in height. Khamtengri, the highest of all, exceeds the rest by some 4,000 feet. The region is regarded as very difficult of access, and old Chinese travelers have left many thrilling stories of its dangers.

Khanteregi never having been defeated by the task, Merzbacher undertook to explore the mountain down to its base. The accuracy. It was a veritable game of hide and seek between a man and a mountain, and the curious and interesting part of it all was that often and again the mountain was in plain sight. The route to it, however, was most difficult to trace, and the seekers realised that until he was actually on its summit he would never know its relation to the rest of the range. After months of toil and disappointment the mountain was finally traced and the riddle solved.—Exchange

Tubular coiled springs have been made by a French engineer, Franco Enroult, and have given quite astonishing results. A Paris laboratory tested two steel springs of exactly the same appearance, one of solid wire and the other of tubular wire with a twenty-fifth of an inch thickness. A pull of 660 pounds stretched the tubular spring nearly three inches, the solid spring yielding less than one and on half inches, and the permanent deformation of the tubular spring was only one-twenty-fifth of an inch, while a stretch of two and one-half inches was required to spring the permanent lengthened one-quarter of an inch. Both blades being more flexible, the tubular spring is much stronger for like weight.

Manufactured Milk.

Cows are not numerous in Japan, but the Japanese are fond of milk, and to meet this demand in the face of a national shortage they have adopted their artificial milk. They have put their wits to work and evolved a product that the average person can not distinguish from the regular dairy article. The artificial milk is derived from the soja bean. The beans are well known that her services are requested and appointments may be made with her. She looks at the good offered her and makes but one offer. If it is not accepted Miss. Choze leaves herself out and the incident is closed as far as she is concerned.—Mitruva Journal.

Inducements Offered.
"Wife—Why did you refuse to give that man the room?"
"Husband—He looked so ill (emphatic)."
"She was afraid, I should never imagine, out courage to raise his rent later on."

Milady's Mirror

Aids to Beauty.
Falling of the chin, or sagging chin muscles, one of beauty's surest enemies. The woman with a double chin has small chance of conveying an impression of freshness and youth.

One of the surest ways of correcting this tendency is to study chin poses in the mirror. Pull the chin up and thrust it out, so that the disfiguring roll is eliminated, then drop the chin on the chest, exaggerating the fault. By so doing a definite idea of the value of chin elevation will be gained.

Study this practical demonstration in the mirror, practice the chin high, but do not thrust forward. Draw the muscles taut and hold them so and develop the practice into a habit, which will soon become a natural pose.

When drying the face or massaging gently with it with any kind of cream or lotion, make the hands into a V shape through placing the base of the palms to the temples, the fingers to the forehead and pushing the hands gently, but firmly, up each side of the face to the temples. Repeat this motion at least half a dozen times a day, and the excess oiliness will gradually disappear. Never use or use downward motions in massaging any of the facial muscles, always moving upward. The tendency of these muscles is to fall and the pressure of the fingers hastens this process. Pushing the hands upward keeps the cheeks full and prevents hollows, the certain marks of old age.

age, from appearing in the face.

Pinning a firm bandage of muslin tightly about the head so that there will be a firm pressure under the chin during the night is a harmless and efficient aid to the foregoing treatment.

The collarband dress reveals the disfiguring creases and wrinkles in the neck. These should be massaged regularly with a good cold cream, as they are quite as undesirable and quite as telltale as the age lines in the face.

Wash Your Own Hair.

If you are accustomed to having your hair shampooed try doing it yourself. You may reap the benefits of a good shampooing.

hour of fresh air and sunlight will do more to stimulate the growth of the hair and bring out its natural color and luster than any amount of tonics. Many women go an entire year without taking advantage of nature's wonderful remedy for lusterless, stubborn hair. A pure soap, a vigorous rubbing, careful rinsing so that no soap remains in the hair, and a few minutes' rays of the sun are possible to every woman. Allow the hair to become thoroughly dry before combing it, then brush out the tangles with a stiff bristle brush. Continue this brushing for at least fifteen minutes, lifting the strands to let the sunshine filter

Sleep the Fountain of Youth.
Any number of women who are cutting ruthlessly into their allowance to swell the cash drawer of the beauty parlors could solve the riddle of appearing fresh and animated if they would but make a practice of taking the proper amount of sleep.

The value of sleep as a restorative and as a fountain of youth is universally admitted. It refreshes and regularizes the system, and it is the key to health therein. It almost seems magic in its effect, and many a woman who has discovered the secret is the envy and admiration of her beauty parlor friends.

Eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep and eight for play is the old rule. Up to now no one has improved on this proportion. If you care more for the preservation of your youth and attractiveness than of your pleasure, take not less than the allotted eight hours of sleep from the twenty-four.

A Lotion For The Brows.

When the brows have been lost by illness or other causes they may, if the roots are not killed, be made to grow again by using the following lotion:

Anoint with a sable brush ten grains of snail-shell and ten grains of musk

Another remedy equally good and one that may also be justly applied to the roots of the larches to promote their growth is composed of one-eighth of an ounce of oil of nutmeg—one-eighth of an ounce of oil of rosemary, one-half ounce of oil of sweet almonds and one-half ounce of tincture of cantharides. Mix all the oils together and then add the cantharides. Incorporate well and apply to the roots with a fine brush eight and morning.

Rose Petal Sachets.

Rose petal sachets are to be found scattered among the lineries and are

To make them spread the rose leaves on a tray and expose them to the sun for a day or warm air until they are dried. Then lightly rumple them up again in the hands and add other dry aromatic ingredients such as cassia buds, orange rind and sandalwood, also a bit of the essential oil of rose. Place the ingredients in white muslin sachets flavoured with pink rosebuds.

Happenings in and Around Frank

A. I. Blais spent Sunday last in Michel.

Mrs. Geo. Miller returned from Hosmer on Sunday's passenger.

A. I. Blais attended the meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Hockey League at Blairmore on Friday evening.

The two brothers of Mrs. Wm. Jolley, of Frank, the Messrs. Gleave, of England, arrived in town on Thursday night from the Old Country.

Mr. Dawkins, who has been here for a month or so taking the vacant barber chair in the Frank hotel, left on Monday for Bellevue where he is going to start a barber shop.

A meeting of the hockey club was held in Frank hotel on Friday night, there was a good attendance and several took part in the discussion of hockey and the skating rink.

The first school meeting of the Frank school district was held on Monday, when they discovered that it was not the term of trustee Long that had expired but that of Clearhuc. A. V. Long was elected chairman for the coming year.

A short council meeting was held on Monday at which W. J. McGowan was elected chairman for the coming year. The council meetings in the future will be open to all who care to attend. The same will be held in the school hall.

No wonder W. J. McGowan wears the smile that won't come off, eighty seven votes polled and he received eighty four. Since becoming town father he has set the rest of the citizens a good example by clearing the snow off the sidewalk around the Hardware etc. Ye Frankites take notice.

On Thursday and Saturday of last week, Frank was visited by a moving picture show. Saturday night's show was particularly interesting to ladies as it was reported that the latest Paris fashion were to be shown, of course that drew the crowd. On both evenings the hall was full, but the entertainment was sadly marred by so many souls who never think of the other person and continues smoking, smoking all through the show, thus making the room uncomfortable as well as unhygienic. We suggest that the manager of the hall on these occasions see that this habit is broken off.

Prominent Mining Men to Gather

Meetings are being held daily by committees in charge of the details of preparation for the coming convention in Spokane of the mining men of the Northwest. The annual reports of mining corporations are showing much improvement. In conditions and there is now an increasing interest in the possibilities ahead for the mining industry. "We only need to place the facts before the people to insure cordial support, and this will be done by the February convention" is the way a prominent operator expressed it at the dinner of the Mining Men's Club, Thursday of last week.

Among the speakers of national reputation who have already sent in their acceptance are Governors Hoy of Washington, and Hawley of Idaho. Seattle, Tacoma and Butte will send strong delegations, and the Arctic Club of Seattle will be represented by delegates and will provide a speaker to present the Alaskan situation from the standpoint of those interested in the development of that vast mineral territory. James H. Lynch, S. W. Kemper, and Senator H. A. Gallaway, and others, will represent the City of Butte, and one of these men will place before the convention a resolution in favor of an increased coinage of silver dollars at a mint to be located in the Northwest, and will ask the convention to endorse an aggressive move of a national character in favor of such legislation by Congress.

As this convention will be a representative gathering of mining men from all the mining states west of the Mississippi River, it is felt to represent that any action taken on questions of needed legislation will have weight with the States Legislature, and will Congress at Washington. All papers presented by the principal speakers will receive consideration in detail, and the broadest discussion will be permitted on all phases of the mining industry.

Happenings in and Around Bellevue

Miss Grace Brewer, of Stavely, is visiting Miss Ruby Irwin.

The bowling alleys, being installed by J. W. Cole, will be ready for use this week.

At the Methodist church next Sunday evening, Mr. Irwin will preach on "Is the Bible Inspired by God?" Discussion is invited at the close of the service.

The new Pelvane band held a practice in the school house on Sunday morning and the large turnout of musicians speaks well for the success of the band.

MARRIED—At Olin Creek, on January 15th, by Rev. W. H. Irwin, of Bellevue, Mr. Harold Eugene Grayford to Miss Evelyn Lillian Lockett, both of Olin Creek.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effective. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It plays the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its superior excellence. Sold by all dealers.

An entertainment in memory of the immortal Scotch bard, Robert Burns, will be held in the Socialists hall here on Thursday evening next. A good time is promised to all who attend.

It is announced there is to be a prize fight between Algernon Watson, the prize fighter of Bellevue, and the local Puffer. The contestants will battle to a finish. The stakes to be $50 a side. Date and place to be announced later.

Do you know that fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simple rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, and require no internal treatment whatever? Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely and see how quickly it gives relief. For sale by all dealers.

The annual school meeting of Bellevue district was held in the school building at 2 p.m. on Saturday. The interest centering around the location and building of the new school brought out a goodly number of people and several matters of interest made a lively discussion. Mr. Albert Hallworth was re-elected to the office of school trustee by a substantial majority of the votes cast. The personnel of the school board is as follows: Trustees, J. B. McDonald, Robert Connolly and Albert Hallworth; secretary-treasurer and assessor, W. H. Chappel.
